ALCHEMY TECHNOLOGY GROUP WINS CITRIX COMMERCIAL PARTNER AWARD

Houston, TX <1 February 2018>--Houston, TX-based startup, Alchemy Technology Group, was recognized as the "Commercial Partner of 2017" in the US at the annual Citrix Summit held in Anaheim, CA, January 8-9, 2018. This award is presented to the business partner that demonstrates an ongoing commitment to support mutual customers, provide a dedicated focus for selling Citrix solutions, and deliver sales, technical and marketing excellence. Alchemy Technology Group was recognized for its superior planning, design, implementation, and post-implementation support of Citrix products.

"Our partnership with Alchemy has been remarkable from the very beginning," noted Rafael Garzon, vice president of Americas Channel at Citrix. "Their focus on helping customers with long-term, predictable business outcomes has established Alchemy as a valued advisor who drives consistent, successful results," he added.

Having begun operations in late 2016, Alchemy's rapid growth helped them reach Citrix Partner Platinum status level in less than six months. "Our relationship with Citrix has allowed us to support clients across all industries with the right technology solutions to transform operations and accelerate their business growth," said co-founding partner, Michael Quirin. "Working collaboratively with our customers allows Alchemy to deliver the best IT solutions that exceed their expectations and support their business success. It's an approach that enables us become a trusted partner," he added.
